Dunham was discharged for promotion having been commissioned First- Lieutenant, Company B, 77th United States Colored Troops (U.S.C.T.).

In 1864 October, the unit was consolidated with the 3rd Brigade, 3rd Division, United States Colored Troops, Department of the Gulf. On 1865 October 18, the unit was consolidated with 10th United States Colored Heavy Artillery assigned to New Orleans. In 1867 February, the unit mustered out. SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

This photograph album is believed to have been compiled by Sgt Maj. Marshall Dunham of the New York 159th Infantry, Company A, later commissioned First- Lieutenant, Company B, 77th United States Colored Troops (U.S.C.T.). The album contains photographs created in Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, and Alabama between circa 1858 and 1865 with the majority created between 1863 and 1865.

The photographers creating these images operated out of New Orleans, for the most part, with the notable exceptions of one portrait of U. S. Grant by E. & H. T. Anthony (New York, New York) and a series of twelve images of Rogers Groups statuary by Maurice Stadtfeld (New York, New York). The remaining 187 images were created by Samuel T. Blessing, Louis Isaac Prince, McPherson and Oliver, and William D. McPherson operating alone. A number of images have no studio/photographer imprint.

Photographs were originally arranged in the album more or less consistently by city of origin. The city series are: New Orleans, Louisiana, with one image each from Camp Groce, Texas, Vicksburg, and Houma, placed within this series; Donaldsonville, Louisiana, with two images from Bayou Lafourche placed within this series; Baton Rouge, Louisiana; Port Hudson, Louisiana, and Point Mobile, Alabama. There is a series of twenty images of Federal naval ships, officers, and crews, and two portraits of Federal military officers placed between the Port Hudson and Mobile Point series. The last series is a set of twelve Rogers statuary images created and marketed by Maurice Stadtfeld. See the series description section for details of the contents of each series.
